DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 15 objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 15 recites dependency upon claim 1, which appears to be a typo and should depend upon claim 11. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gray, Jr. (US 6,719,080 B1).

Gray, Jr. discloses a vehicle comprising a drivetrain system including an engine 11, engine pump 12, a first pump/motor 21 for driving wheels 20, a second pump/motor 22 for driving wheels 20, a first low pressure accumulator 17, a second high pressure accumulator 13, hydraulic connections 14, 18, first and second control valves 31, 51, splitting valve 41, and controller 10, wherein said controller determines target parameters based on accumulator pressure, pump displacement, acceleration pedal position, and hydraulic flow rate and either closing communication to the accumulators by means of the valves or operating either pump/motor in response to the sensed parameters in view of the target value, as shown in figures 1-9.

With respect to method claims 1-11, the method steps recited in these claims is inherently performed in the operation of the system of Gray, Jr. described above.
